

Every Major Commercial Real Estate Brokerage in Canada Subscribes to CoStar

September 30, 2026

Industry-wide adoption underscores CoStar's role as the standard for comprehensive commercial real estate data, analytics and tools that help professionals compete and deliver greater value to clients.

TORONTO--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Sep. 30, 2026-- CoStar Group (NASDAQ: CSGP), a leading provider of commercial real estate information, analytics and online marketplaces in the property markets, today announced that every major commercial real estate brokerage firm in Canada subscribes to CoStar. Across the industry, leading national and global firms use CoStar's property data, analytics and market intelligence to support their Canadian operations, compete more effectively and strengthen the advice they provide to clients.

By bringing detailed property, ownership, tenant, transaction, availability, news and market information together in one platform, CoStar helps brokerage professionals spend less time gathering data and more time uncovering opportunities, preparing stronger pitches, advancing transactions and advising clients. Its broad adoption also gives firms a consistent foundation for comparing markets, properties and opportunities across Canada.

"Canada's leading commercial real estate brokerages recognize that direct access to comprehensive, reliable market information is essential to competing effectively and delivering excellent client service," said Andy Florance, Founder and Chief Executive Officer of CoStar Group. "We are proud to support every major brokerage firm in Canada with the data, analytics and tools their professionals need to identify opportunities, act with confidence and deliver stronger outcomes for clients."

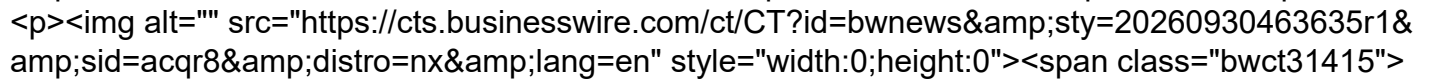

CoStar's Canadian platform includes intelligence on 357,000 commercial properties, 136,000 sale comparables, 211,000 lease activities, 500,000 tenant profiles, 27,000 active listings and 12 billion square feet of space. This depth and breadth help brokers identify prospective owners, tenants, buyers and sellers; strengthen listing presentations and client recommendations; and evaluate opportunities using current market evidence. Research and valuation professionals can reduce manual data collection, create reports more efficiently and devote more time to analysis and strategic advice.
